

Nydam Mose: Die Schiffe (Jutland Archaeological Society Publications)

Nydam Mose or Bog in Southern Denmark, which in the Iron Age was a sacred lake, is renowned for its rich sacrificial finds from the period 200-400 A.D. This is the publication of person-related items found during the excavation in an area labelled The Boatfield, and the finds include dress accessories, personal utilitarian objects, valuables and special tools. This is the first in a series of publications from The Nydam Bog labelled Jernalderen i Nordeuropa (The Iron Age in Northern Europe). Text in German, with English summary.
